Sleep easy with a dream of 3000 mirrors

Imagine a bedspread of 3000 mirrors, hand-stitched embroidery, and the softest cotton in rich terracotta tones, all combining into one luxurious Indian bedspread. Just one example of the many beautiful items now available online from The Bombay Bedspread Company.

In defiance of mass-produced blandness, our hand-crafted textiles are treasures to be loved and appreciated. Our range features traditional and contemporary designs, the warmth of finest wool, the opulence of mirror work, the intricacy of needlework, the softness and complexity of handloom weaves and cotton filled quilts.

With so much variety there's something for everyone. And the inspiration for that diversity? India itself. Vibrant, colourful, eclectic, energetic, and contemplative, with areas of deserts, mountains and jungles, and of course the huge bustling cities. It's exotic, frenzied and compelling. It's India.

We source many of our products from co-operatives, NGOs, women's groups and the like, bringing to the British public the true crafts of Indian artisans. And we do so by trading as ethically as possible. To promote a positive environmental message we encourage the use of vegetable dyes so our bedspreads don't cost the earth.

The British public loves all things Indian and we're beginning to embrace the bedspread as a 'must have' item, making The Bombay Bedspread Company THE place to visit online. A beautiful bedspread, a treasure in its own right, can magically transform dated décor, brighten tired rooms, and give you that longed for feeling of luxury. Visit us at www.BombayBedspread.com

About us: The Bombay Bedspread Company has sole trader status and is owned by Raj and Janet Redij-Gill.

Raj is from the Indian city of Mumbai (formally Bombay) and Janet is from Lancashire. They decided to start the business when their gifts of bedspreads to family and friends met with such an enthusiastic response that they were inundated with requests for more. They are both passionate about fair trade, the environment and supporting the traditional crafts of artisans.
